STATE URGED TO SPEED START ON ROUTE 5 FREEWAY

City of Campbell and the Campbell Chamber of Commerce joined other civic groups of the several bay area counties in urging Tuesday that a speed-up be made of the 12 remaining miles of Route 5 Freeway from the Bayshore highway to Los Gatos so as to take the loads off the three two-lane roads leading to Santa Cruz.

The highway committee of the Central Coast Councils of California State Chamber of Commerce met in Dunne Hall, San Jose to unify the front to be made next Thursday before the State Highway Commission in Sacramento that this project be given top priority for the area when the 1956-57 budget is made up.

Campbell Chamber of Commerce pointed out the freeway will take the load off Winchester Road and the San Jose-Los Gatos Road with the Overpass at Hamilton avenue to channel traffic to and from Campbell.

A. P. Haman, city manager at San Jose told the committee the route will connect three major metropolitan areas, Oakland, Southern Santa Clara County and Santa Cruz County, embracing nearly two million people.

County Planning Director Karl Belser said:

"We hope Route 5 will be expedited at the greatest possible speed because it is the worst trouble spot in our highway system."

Belser pointed out, however, the Route 5 project, while the most important in the county, had not officially been given number 1 priority in recommendation of the San Jose Chamber of Commerce highway committee. He said the group would leave it up to the State Highway Commission to determine which projects should come first.

There also was strong sentiment expressed to mak efour lanes of Highway 9, from Sunnyvale to Saratoga. Col. John Skaggs, former State Highway engineer for the San Francisco district said this road should be made four lanes at once contending that future freeway construction would do little to relieve present road congestion on highway 9.

Other local projects referred to the commission for action included:

Mountain View-Milpitas Road, from Milpitas to Sunnyvale and by-passing Alviso, 1.3 miles.

Bayshore Freeway, between the San Mateo County line and Ford Road, south of San Jose, 24 miles.

Stevens Creek Freeway, between Bayshore and Los Gatos, 13.8 miles.

Non-freeway improvements asked:

Sunnyvale-Saratoga Road, between Mathilda avenue, Sunnyvale and Azule, and from Azule to Saratoga, 9:4 miles.

El Camino Real, Santa Clara north city limits to Sunnyvale south city limits, 9.4 miles.

Alum Rock avenue, King Road to Mt. Hamilton road, 3.1 miles.

Monterey Road, Ford Road to Tully Road, 4.5 miles.

Presiding over the session was Loren Vanderlip, manager, Statewide Highway Committee, State Chamber of Commerce, who was introduced by Irving Normandin, of San Jose.

Other projects were examined and approved for recommendation to the commission from Alameda, Contra Costa, San Francisco, San Mateo and Santa Cruz Counties.

Grange Planning To Enter Booth In County Fair

Orchard City Grange, the 1954 Santa Clara County Fair Sweepstakes winner, is again planning on entering a booth in this year's county fair. Richard Morrill reported on progress of the booth at Tuesday evening's meeting of the Grange and asked members to contribute fruits and vegetables. A special meeting of the fair booth committee has been called for Friday, August 12, at 7:30 p .m., at the home of Sarah Blue, 789 White Oak Road.

Other business included a report by John Gordon, district deputy, on an installation of officers in a new Grange at Pescadero, and a special meeting of all Grange officers in the county which is to be held August 29, the meeting place to be announced at a later date. The meeting has been called by the California State Grange Master George Sehlmyer.

Following the business meeting, the Grange paid honor to California State Grange executive board member Harry Barnes and his wife Marie with a special program on the occasion of their fiftieth wedding anniversary. An original poem, especially composed for the Barnes, was read by Clara Beebe Baldwin, and an impromptu glee club of nine members sang several numbers in their honor accompanied by Lois Wileman on the xylophone and Virginia Rutherford at the piano. Highlights of the Barnes' Grange activities were read from a "history book" by Jessie McChesney.

Barnes is a Past Master of Orchard City Grange, serving two years, and has been an active member of the state board for many years. His wife Marie was instrumental in starting the ladies auxiliary now known as the Home Economics Club which has become an important part of all Grange activities throughout the country.

The banquet hall was decorated with gladioli by Cora Kaufman, and refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Guy Proctor, Mr. and Mrs. A. Simonson, and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bruegeman.

SCHOOL TAX IS CUT 20% IN CAMPBELL

A 20c reduction in the tax rate for the Campbell Union Elementary School District, was set Thursday night after the budget for the new fiscal year was approved. The new rate of $1.60 for each $100 assessed valuation is the maintenance and operation tax, the only rate the school is empowered to set.

The $1.80 rate last year was set because the district ended its fiscal year with less than $5000 in the reserve so the increase over the previous year was to set up a reserve which today is $100,000.

In the $100,000 reserve, $25,000 is general and can only be used for the interim period from July until new tax monies are available, while the $75,000 is undistributed reserve.

Estimated expenditure in the 1955-56 budget total $1,735,946 of which $55,000 is for administration and $1,051,896 is for instruction, $145,525 for school plant operation, $90,776 for capital outlay and $48,903 for transportation of pupils.

C. E. Bradley, district business manager said yesterday the board policy is to keep the operating cost down yet maintain good standards, and that a good reserve is assurance against paying interest on borrowed or bonded moneys.

At the meeting Monday a contract was awarded Bob-Bilt Roadways for 70,000 square feet of paving for additional play ground areas at the Dover, Hamilton, Moorpark and Quito Schools.

Planners Approve Swim Pool

$100,000 Restaurant In Campbell Planned

City Planners approved a variance for construction of a 30 by 60 foot swim pool for child instruction and for handicapped persons to replace the Chinchilla Farm at 220 North San Jose-Los Gatos Road. The chinchilla barns will be made over for dressing rooms and the pool will be built between these rooms and the present residence on the property.

Noel K. Atkinson said the property was contiguous to the Hamilton Shopping Center and that he had secured permission to use their parking facilities for any overflow that might occur. Chuck Thompson, who now operates a similar pool at Menlo Park said he was to operate the pool, giving instruction to not more than four children per class, and that the facility was not intended as a public pool. Thompson, who hold a California Teaching Certificate is well known in athletics.

Planning Consultant Nestor Barrett said that since the property is next to a major shopping center he did not see that it would break down the zoning pattern and that this facility would have a lesser use than the existing Chinchilla Farm operated by the Ray Dar lings.

Planners rejected without prejudice the application to rezone from M-1-S to C-2-S some property extending to the creek on the west side of San Jose-Los Gatos Road between Campbell avenue and Hamilton avenue, contending that all things the applicants wanted were provided in present zoning. Ivan Kucich said he wants to spend over $100,000 to erect a restaurant facing the highway, while Joseph Giannini wants to build apartments at the rear with considerable landscaping. Kucich said when he applied for change in zone he supposed he would need a use permit for apartment houses in a manufacturing zone but not in a commercial zone, and he feared industrial zoning would be assessed higher than commercial, which commission said was erroneous. Kucich wanted approval of a proposed street, commission stating that as a private street their approval was not necessary, advising that he have plans drawn up for architectural approval of proposed restaurant showing location of street, parking facilities and other requirements.

A tentative map of a proposed subdivision of H. R. Hensley at 383 feet west of Winchester Road on the north side of Rincon was presented. Richard Salice who owns the property, and Hensley who is the contractor agree to making larger sized lots. The hearing was continued to the August 18 meeting.

Commission approved zoning as first residential newly annexed lands from Virginia and Rincon Avenue intersection to San Tomas Aquino Creek, formerly owned by Salvadore Viviano.

Bruce Allen Scores Raid On Butano

By Bruce Allen
Assemblyman

The devestation of the Butano Forest which has occurred since the Governor vetoed the beach and park bill on July 9, has just begun to leak out in the newspapers. On Saturday,, August 6th, I went on a tour of the Butano area in the company of Ralph Shaw, San Mateo County Superintendent of Parks. The 3000 acres proposed for a state park on the Big and Little Butano creeks includes a large area of fairly level land in second growth redwoods that is suitable for very fine camping and picnicking use. The most beautiful spots however, are the virgin redwood groves in sections 16 and 22. These have never been touched by man. We walked through groves of giant redwoods, many over ten feet thick at the base, towering over ferns, rhododendrons, etc., some of which were over my head. The trees are not the biggest in California but they are very large and the groves are very beautiful. Even in this dry summer, the canyon bottoms had running water. Then came the shock. We stepped out of this cathedral like atmosphere into the portion the Santa Cruz Lumber Co. has been logging the past week. The hillsides were stripped of vegetation. Chain saws had felled the redwoods, big and little. Bulldozers had filled the creek bottoms with dirt. Sliding logs and bulldozers had left practically nothing in the way of growth. The watershed just isn't there anymore. The water will run off rapidly next winer, forcing the soil downstream, and next summer the stream will be dry. Up to this time, the Butano creeks have held trout and steelhead in water that runs all summer.

The so called compromise is no victory at all for the park, as it involves logging off the Big Butano completely, and removal of the large trees from Section 22 after sale of it to the State. The Butano falls are in Section 16 which is due to be stripped. The Assembly Committee on Conservation, Planning and Public Works will tour the Butano on August 17. If we can show people what is happening to the choicest forest in the Bay Area, perhaps we can get some action out of Sacramento. The legislature passed a bill at the last session for outright state purchase of the Butano forest, along with other park projects in other parts of the State of similar high priority. However, there is still some opposition to any park development and some officials want to use the beach and park funds to meet the State's deficit.

FIRST OF PRUNE CROP PROCESSED AT COOP DRYER

The first shipment of prunes for 1955 was received Monday at the Campbell Co-Operative Dryer and Herman Gertz, manager of the Dryer and superintendent of the Prune and Apricot Growers Association, said the estimated green tonnage for this year is 13,000 or better. The peak plant capacity is expected to be reached August 25 through 28.

Gertz said the crop each succeeding year has topped the previous one and that this year will be no exception in spite of the increase in new subdivisions which are replacing a number of the older orchards. He bases his prediction on newer and more intensified methods of farming now being used by the ranchers. Better fertilizing, pruning, spraying and irrigating the last few years has resulted in a larger yield from less acreage.

Of the apricots, Richard Azeveda, district field buyer for the association, said 8,139 fresh tons of cots from the Campbell-Los Gatos area were processed at plant No. 7, and 725 dried tons packaged this year.

Campbell's Oldest Settler Dies At 90

Campbell's oldest native resident and a pioneer of California, Mrs. Charlotte W. Sutter, died quietly at her home at 19 S. Third Street Sunday. She was 90 years of age.

Mrs. Sutter was the daughter of Larry and Elizabeth Willet, the second pioneers to settle in the Campbell area, Benjamin Campbell being the first. The Willets purchased 200 acres of land in 1860 east and adjoining the Campbell ranch and erected a large barn containing four rooms which had been framed and fitted in Maine and brought around the horn. In this home Charlotte and her older sister were born and lived until a more substantial house was built a number of years later. Her father passed away in 1877 leaving his widow with five children.

Her brother opened the first general store in Campbell in 1886 and was later appointed postmaster with Charlotte as assistant. She married the late Charles Sutter and together they erected the first Sutter Building on Campbell and Central Avenues. The building was torn down in 1937 and replaced with a gas station.

Mrs. Sutter was a member of the Congregational Church. Orchard City Grange, Santa Clara County Pioneer Society, and the Campbell Woman's Country Club.

She is survived by her sister, Mrs. Anna L. Sprung of Campbell, two nephews and a niece.

Pallbearers were Robert Scholz, Mark Purmort, Richard Morrill Jr., Robert Wurfer, Will Lester, and H. A. Butts.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at Willow Glen Mortuary of the Chapel of Psalms under the auspices of Orchard City Grange with Delbert Hollenberg officiating. Interment was in Santa Clara City Cemetery.

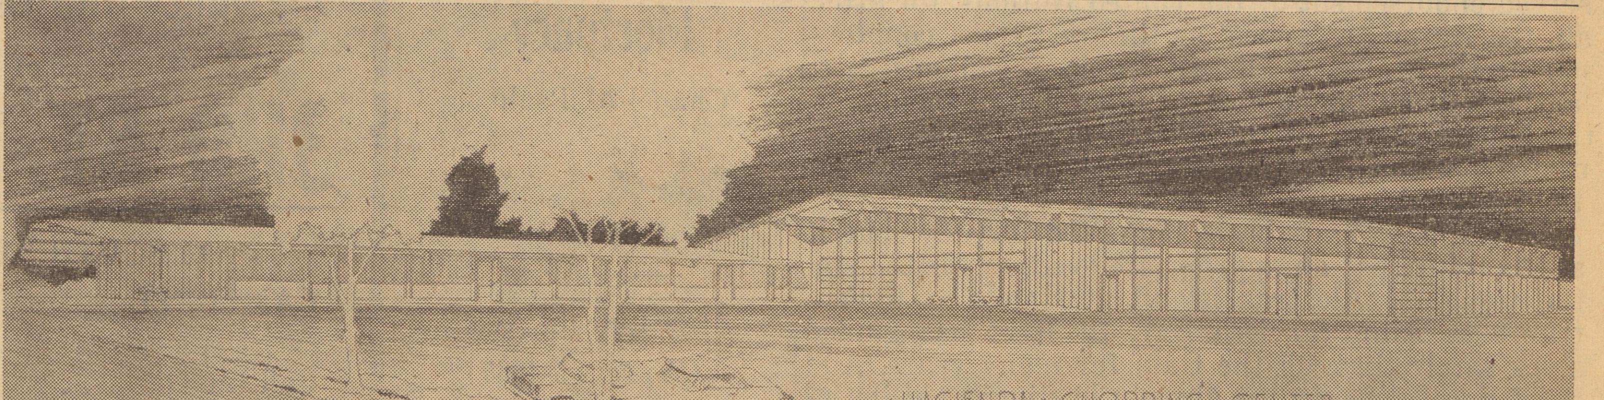
Approximately forty Boy Scouts from Troops 31 and 28 held a swimming party Friday evening in the Campbell High School pool. Troop 31 originally planned the swim party and on the suggestion of their scoutmaster, Vincent Diehl, invited Troop 28 to be their guests.

San Francisco's Golden Gate Park is more than three and one half miles long and a half-mile wide.



Here is the architect's sketch of Big Boy's Hacienda Shopping Center on which work is scheduled to start after the first of the year on Hacienda Drive. The center will include a super market and eight additional stores. Elmo Pardini is to be general contractor of the structure which will be modern ranch style. Anthony Turturici is the owner.

Big Boy Market will occupy a section of the new center which will have 13,200 square feet of sace, 10,000 of which will be selling space. Four of the stores are to be 30 by 40, another 40 by 90 and two will be 36 by 80. The Center is to be built on four and a half acres and it will have parking space for 200 cars.

EDITORIAL

SAVE THE BUTANO, NOW!

Unless you have actually walked through the Butano forest in Southern San Mateo County, you could not fully appreciate its natural splendor. It is robed with magnificent ferns and rare flowers in the shadow of towering redwoods; it glistens with waterfalls and streams, hums with the song of birds and seems to be nature's own cathedral of peace. There are no worn paths, for this is virgin forest just as are the flowers, the ferns and the shrubs. No ax has been allowed there, until recently.

Walk through most of the forest and it is the same, but tomorrow it may not even be there. Walk today, until you suddenly hear the growl of trees being tumbled down hillsides, yellow dirt flying about, choking forever its live springs, frightening wild animals and making a horrible mess of what a few weeks ago was a part of this beautiful forest.

Why does the State of California permit such an atrocity to happen? Is it politics, bull-headedness, indifference and just a lack of understanding that this goes on?

Surely the people have often enough expressed views that this last stand of virgin forest should be preserved. A plan for its purchase was dumped in a hopper with other legislature bills with no system of priority set up so at the last minute it was vetoed. There is an indication now that the state will have it in the budget of the next fiscal year, which is good. But we feel that logging there should be stopped now!

The Governor and the State Park Commission can order condemnation proceedings in the interest of the people, and they should. That would halt this devastating action. It will take 3000 years to replace the Butano Forest once it is logged over. In 30 days the order can be issued that further cutting must stop.

WHERE TIME IS FOR SALE

A box of groceries representing the average housewife's weekly food purchases might not at first glance seem particularly representative of progress. But a comparison of a similar selection of groceries of 1925 vintage would quickly reveal changes and advances little short of revolutionary. Fresh fruits and vegetables once obtainable only in season from local growers are now universally available the year 'round at reasonable prices. Our high speed distribution system and the use of refrigeration have all but eliminated seasonal influence on food supplies.

In addition to greater food variety and quality, today's housewife can buy another priceless commodity at her local food store—and that is time. In 1925. it took 5½ hours to prepare a day's food for a family of four. Using the great variety of highly processed modern foods now available, the same job can be done in 1-6/10 hours. One of the newer additions to the frozen food line are complete dinners, with all the trimmings, prepared and ready to eat—just heat and serve.

Groceries have changed a lot in the past thirty years and so have the stores which make them available to us. From the standpoint of quantity and sheer overwhelming variety of quality foods, the modern super market has become a veritable Pandora's box of culinary delights. Ever-present active competition makes the lowest possible price the only one charged by up and coming merchants—profit margins often running as low or even lower than 1½ per dollar of sales.

An hour's take-home pay will buy much more of nearly every kind of food now than it would in 1925. The average person eats more and better now than in those days and it still costs the same 25 percent of his income. A box of groceries is not as spectacular as the latest jet aircraft—but it represents just as surely the rapid flow of progress.

SYMBOL OF JUSTICE

A group of imaginative Californians have set up a $1200 fund to start a world-wide campaign for the erection in San Francisco's Golden Gate of a statue to Justice. It would be a United Nations memorial symbolizing the ideals and objectives of that organization. The backers believe that Congress, the U.N. General Assembly, and the governments of many nations would support the plan.

Endorsement of the idea need not involve unreserved endorsement of the United Nations, for after all, the statue has appeal as the west coast counterpart to the Statue of Liberty. Justice for all men may not be fully enforced by the United Nations, but it is the hope and aim of the United States. A tangible, useful monument to that ideal would be a most worthy undertaking.

This may have been suggested already, but it seems to us that an appropriate location for the statue would be Alcatraz island. It stands at the entrance to San Francisco Bay. Its light has guided ships safely through the Gate for many years. And the federal government already has indicated its intention, eventually, to abandon Alcatraz as a prison site.

How inspiring to turn that grim rock — known now as the abode of stern justice for men who have sinned against society—into the symbol of hope for men against whom society has sinned—the underprivileged, the enslaved, the unhappy!

How To Win Peace Told By Speaker At Kiwanis Meet

Herbert Neale, pastor of the Campbell Methodist Church in a talk Tuesday before the Kiwanis Club said that the only way America can win the peace is through meeting human needs. In a competing situation, whoever solves the problem of human need over a long period of time will succeed. The present mood that the peace has been won, is just as dangerous as was the mood of a few months ago that was inevitable.

Regarding the trio of prisoners returned from the iron curtain, he said that a gallup poll disclosed that 47 percent of the people favor giving them another chance in that they now know full well the meaning of democracy.

David Sanders was program chairman. Perfect attendance pins were given to Lawrance Hill, 9 years: Fred Jones, 11 years; and Ethan Lanphear, 12 years.

The Campbell Gambol

PHARMACIST Herb Shadle of Campbell put on his walking shoes one day last week and joined a dozen or so others headed by Ralph Shaw the San Mateo County Recreation Director, for an inspection visit to Butano Forest, and what they saw of logging operations was shocking . . . huge trees were being dragged down hillsides from an area never before touched by the woodsman ax, covering live springs which never again will feed streams and wiping away the watershed that means so much to the area rainfall . . . the action is likely to continue at full speed over a 1000 acre area until the 1956-57 budget is made up and signed by the Governor, under present plans, unless a lot of letters and wire go to the Governor and to the State Park Commission so that condemnation proceedings may be started, the commission being able to act on this August 27 at a meeting in Klamath if enough letters urging this action are filed at once.

QUOTES . from Campbell Kiwanis Bulletin: Kiwanis Club beat Rotary 7 to 5 in baseball even after Rotary had to bring in a pro from the Little League to fill in a vacancy, while our only casualty was Milt Nelson who ran into a lawn moth crawing back to first base. From Stanford 1955 Football Guide: Eric Protiva is a frosh who provided the coaching staff with a pleasant surprise this Spring; big, powerful, with adequate speed and plenty of desire, he was coming along fast toward the end of Spring practice when he injured a knee necessitating an operation; assuming that the surgery will prove successful this boy should develop into a fine tackle in spite of the fact he was not highly rated as a freshman; he may be another one of those big youngsters who is a year away from real varsity competition; a pre-medical student from Campbell.

FAIR TIME For the last five years has brought on a lot of experience working, publicity, advertising, special events, commercial exhibits and in the counting rooms, so I slide into the work without much prompting, although my work now is more in the latter department which is every bit as interesting . . . the appeals for more passes, the things that are lost on the grounds, the tearful children who have wandered from their parents, the need for the plumber, the electrician and the maintenance crew go on continually and the request to use the public address system to have someone meet another have to be handled with discretion, big name entertainers come in seeking privacy and relaxation from being stared at on the grounds where they have to keep up a vivacious appearance, and stories of gatemen and watchmen of new ways that the boys manage to get on the grounds without paying an admission seem to be continuous . . . I thought that I had seen most of them, but there were at least three that came to my attention this weekend at the Floral Fiesta, . . . the low arm of one of the exit turnstiles had been removed so that when put in a certain position boys could belly their way underneath right within six feet of where a uniformed officer was standing with his back to them checking the incoming crowd, the athletic high school group, springing from the saddle of two of their crowd, over the barbed wire of an eight foot fence to land untouched on a sawdust pile, and boys against the right rear wheel of a car being checked for credentials at the left side by an attendant partially paralysed, then walking in as the car moved through the gate, something I detected from the window of the administration office, and gathered three of the boys for a lecture, that they were inside and that I wanted them to enjoy the show, but to remember in the next year or so that they had taken advantage of a man who was helpless, like taking something from a blind man, and if they ever feel like paying for this admission, we have a conscience fund which is used for good purposes . . . each year we get anonymous donations from young people who did something like this from one to five years ago, and I somehow feel that most of these boys will be doing it too later on.

YOU'RE FROM CAMPBELL aren't you, inquired the barber when Judge Martin Walsh took a seat in his chair at Fairbanks, Alaska, recently and who was the tonsorial artist but Harry Boyanjian who until last Spring was at the City Barber Shop on Campbell Avenue for $1.50 instead of $2.50 the rate in the land of the midnight sun.

POLICEMEN HOLD BARBECUE AT UVAS

Members and families of the Campbell Police Auxiliary, and members and families of City Councilmen held their annual barbecue and picnic last Sunday at Uvas Dam with Vince Diehl acting as chef. There were more than 100 in the gathering.

One of the features was a soft ball game between members of the Police Auxiliary against councilmen and members of the regular force. Nobody remembered to keep score.

There are 14 members of the Auxiliary now meeting every other Friday evening.

Said bonds will be dated September 15 1955 and will be designated Series "1955-1".

All bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared at the time and place above stated, after which said bonds will be awarded to the bidder who offers to take them at the lowest rate of interestt plus premium, if any, both the interest and the amount of the premium to be considered in determining the best bid.

SAN JOSE MAY TAKE CAMBRIAN POSTAL BRANCH

A move is under way by U. S. Postal Service to remove the Cambrian Park postoffice as a branch of the Los Gatos office and assign it to San Jose, but a decision is pending at Washington.

The move for a change in home postal offices arose, according to the inspector's office, because of a large number of new subdivisions in the Cambrian Park area, some of which are inside the San Jose city limits.

The demands for new mailing service in the area prompted the move to bring the entire area under the San Jose Post Office for the sake of economy and efficiency, postal authorities said.

They declared, however, that Cambrian Park, if the move is sanctioned in Washington, can retain its individual mailing address as Cambrian Park, Calif., rather than carry a San Jose address.

At present, the Cambran Park branch post office operates out of Los Gatos and serves roughly westward to Carlton, Lester, Branham Lane and Union Aves.

Floral Fiesta Features Orchids From Formosa

Flown in from Formosa, three huge crates of orchids, ferns, dragon trees and cypress arrived Tuesday morning at the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta. They were sent as floral emissaries of good will from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Formosa to the San Mateo County Fiesta. Arrangements on this side of the ocean were concluded by members of the Chinese consulate of San Francisco. Accompanying the floral offering were plans for the display drawn in Formosa. Already the exhibit is in place in a large area reserved for it at the west end of the Hall of Flowers.

As the Fiesta swung into the sixth day of its nine day run, perfect weather and the Fiesta's great wealth of entertainment, exhibits, fun and activity drew record breaking thousands through the turn styles. The big county event will continue through this Saturday evening.

Mrs. Marc Hecker Directs New Play Julieart Theatre

Mrs. Marc (Jan) Hecker of 658 Robin Lane in Campbell has been chosen to direct "The Moon is Blue", next offering of San Jose Actors Lab in the Julieart Playhouse.

The show is both Mrs. Hecker's first assignment with San Jose Actors Lab and her first directional endeavor on the local theater scene. She received her formal dramatic training at Stephens College, Northwestern University and Chicago's Goodman School of the Theater, and her theatrical background includes summer stock work at Cape May, New Jersey and Clinton, New York and a season with an "off-Broadway" stock company.

As an actress she has appeared many times with San Jose Theater Guild. Her roles as Georgia in "The Country Girl" Birdie in "Little Foxes" and Lucy in "First Lady" won for her the "Golden Ham" award made annually by the Theater Guild, and she is the only person ever to receive the honor three times.

Mrs. Hecker and her husband, who is a teacher at San Jose's Grant school, have three children: Lane, 12, who attends Campbell Elementary School; Jeff, 9, student at Chevy Lane school; and Ginny, 7.

"The Moon is Blue" opens Thursday, Aug. 18 and will play the remaining Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings in August and also through September.

Circle Play Lets You Sit In Midst Of Real Thriller

Summer Circle opened its second production of the current season with the mystery Drama "Ladies in Retirement" last week end in the Lyndon Hotel, Los Gatos. It is a thriller by Edward Percy and Reginald Denham and is directed by Margaret Douglas Chamberlin.

This is the first time that this play has been produced in-the-round. Working without standard scenery, actor characterizations lighting effects to create this story of chilling suspense are done away with.

Cast includes Muriel Rice, Pat Beaudry, Fred Engelberg, Mary Jepp, Margaret Chamberlin, Bernice Carey and Gail Anderson.

Plot of the play is built around Ellen Creed, a desperate strong-willed woman who is a housekeeper-companion to an ex-chorus girl in a lonely home on the Thames Estuary in England. She is determined to find a home and security for her two odd older sisters and resorts to ruthless methods to achieve that end. Her plans are discovered by her nephew, a petty thief who comes for an unexpected visit. Play is a tightly woven story that maintains its suspense to the last curtain.

Before leaving for home the Hewitts stopped in Fontana to visit Mr. Hewitt's scoutmaster of 30 years ago in Oregon.

Ruth Hewitt Weds Donald Burt In Double Ring Rites

Now at home in the Marlborough Court apartment after honeymooning at Russian River, are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Elsworth Burt who were married July 30 in mid-afternoon ring ceremony performed by Rev. Joseph Bennett at the Saratoga Federated Church.

The bride is the former Ruth Helene Hewitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Russell Hewitt, Jr., of 12545 Quito Road, and sister of Paul Michael Hewitt. She will graduate from Campbell High School in February and is a member of Job's Daughters, Bethel 222, of Oakland.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Burt of 55 Paso Robles, Los Altos, and brother of Mrs. Dorothy Colp. He is a graduate of Mt. View High School and is employed by the Plogg Sheetmetal Company of Campbell.

For her wedding, Ruth selected a floor-length gown of imported rose-point lace and tulle, styled with long sleeves and Elizabethan collar, and a bouffant skirt of tiered tulle. Her finger-tip veil of lace and tulle was caught to a band of beaded pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and orchids when escorted to the altar by her father. For the traditional "something old", she wore a brooch presented to her grandmother by her grandfather at their wedding.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Kenneth Colp, who wore a lilac long torso gown and carried a bouquet of two shades of orchid colored carnations. Marilyn Lackey of Saratoga, and Joan Oliver, cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids identically gowned in orchid and carried orchid carnations. Kenny Colp served as ringbearer and Lea Mae Dingler was flower girl.

The duties of best man were performed by Edward Treece and John Atherton and John Ross acted as ushers. Paul Michael Hewitt, Jr., was honorary usher.

Mrs. Hewitt, mother of the bride, wore a dress of dusty rose lace with blue accessories and a corsage of orchids. Mother of the groom, Mrs. Burt, chose a glazed blue silk voile with pink accessories and pinned on a corsage of orchids.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 250 persons was held at Villa Montalvo, after which the young couple left for their honeymoon.

Don and Elmer Pincolini who are featuring the grand opening of their new Texaco Service Station today and tomorrow on the East side of the San Jose-Los Gatos Highway and adjacent to Dick's Super Market.

GRAND OPENING TODAY FOR DICK'S NEW SHOPPING CENTER

Dick Yee, president of Dick's Markets operating in San Jose, Vallejo, Fairfax and Sacramento is happy with the location of his newest market and organization headquarters on the San Jose-Los Gatos Road opposite Pamlar avenue, because he feels it is destined to be the number one merchandising center of the bay area. He had an exhaustive survey made before breaking ground for this center indicating it is five minutes from Willow Glen, Burbank, Cambrian Park and Campbell and ten minutes from Los Gatos and Cupertino.

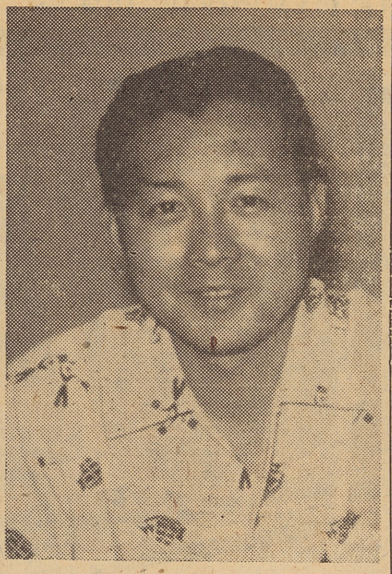
The site is only partially developed. Negotiations are under way to have a major department store on the site, which is within half mile of the Campbell city limits.

From the new store, which is having its grand opening this week, there are carloads of merchandise arriving on a special spur track. Dick buys major products in carload lots and distributes from his warehouse here.

The new super market, considered the main store in the Yee chain, contains 20,000 square feet of floor space. It is air-conditioned and equipped with doors operated by an electric eye. The meat department boasts a 100 foot display counter, the largest in northern California, and employs 15 butchers. There is a 150 foot refrigerated case for frozen food, and another 150 foot case for fresh vegetables. Seven check-out stands assure prompt service. The market carries a complete line of all kinds of groceries together with such specialties as Chinese food, imported delicacies and low-calorie items.

Operation of the market is a family affair. The Yee's have seven sons and one daughter. Six of the sons are helping their father in his businesses at the present time, and even Mrs. Yee can be found in the store occasionally. She is artictically inclined and designed the huge neon sign at the entrance to the parking lot which depicts a woman pushing a shopping cart. Their only daughter, Virginia, recently married Tommy Wong, a Stanford graduate, and is now honeymooning in Florida. Upon their return the son-in-law will join the market staff.

General manager of the store is Gene Yee. He and his wife Peggy have three children, Gary, 6, Peggy Jean 4, and Ricky one year. Calvin Yee is manager of the meat department. He and his wife Helen have one little boy, Andrew, one year old. Melvin Yee is the warehouse carload buyer, Donald Yee is head checker, and sixteen year old Hen Lee is a general all round helper while learning the business. Gin Yee is serving with the U. S. Army and Edwin Yee is manager of another Dick's Market in San Jose.



Gene Yee, general manager for Dick's Super Markets, is one of the seven sons of Dick Yee, president of the firm.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Yee who in a few decades have built from a meagre beginning, a chain of successful food stores in San Jose, Fairfield, Vallejo and Sacramento, the newest of which is on the East side of the San Jose-Los Gatos Road opposite Pamlar Avenue, half a mile from Campbell. This is to be the main store for the enterprise and the first unit of a vast development which is expected to bring a major department store here. Mr. Yee who is 47 is president of the enterprise, while Mrs. Yee is the designer of the huge neon sign on the shop center site. They have seven sons and a daughter all of whom are associated with the stores.

Although many sufferers blame the goldenrod, it's actually the pollen from the ragweed that sets hay-fever victims to sneezing. The pollen of the goldenrod is too heavy to ride the wind, while ragweed pollen, on the other hand, spreads even on light breezes.

New electric utility plants to be built in the U. S. by 1956 will consume 46 million tons of coal annually.

The famed U. S. S. Constitution (Old Ironsides) had a sister ship that was launched in 1797 as the U. S. S. United States. Nicknamed "Old Wagon," the United States was slow and heavy, was finally scrapped in 1886.

Families with children tend to have better diets than those without children, even though their average income is no higher and they have more mouths to feed.

INK STAINS

By HELEN McLEOD

LASSEN VOLCANIC NATIONAL PARK either has had very few visitors from Santa Clara Valley, or else I have been looking at the wrong register. Although I have examined three books, which date back to the opening of the camp in June, I found only a handful of people who gave addresses in Campbell, San Jose, Los Gatos or Saratoga. Campbell Press publisher, Lester Lafferty, participated in the dedication of this park some years ago, so I know he knows more about it than I do, but from the lack of local visitors, apparently our readers are not too familiar with this magnificent area only a day's journey from home. For the benefit of the uninitiated, I quote from a brochure: "Lassen Volcanic National Park, in northeastern California, preserves Lassen Peak and an area of 104,120.68 acres of Federal lands containing spectacular volcanic exhibits which surround it . . . Lassen Peak is volcanic in origin . . it rises 10,453 feet above sea level . . . Its latest eruptions occurred between 1914 and 1917 . . . Hot springs and steam and sulphurous vents are found . . at the Sulphur Works . . . The Park is covered with beautiful evergreen forests . . . Several hundred species of wildflowers are found in the park. This is an absolute sanctuary for the animals inhabiting it. The black-tailed and mule deer are common . . . Ground squirrels and chipmunks are also numerous . . . Other small mammals, including chickaree, marten, and marmot and fox are shyer but often seen. The amusing, shuffling black bear is found in the park . . ."

THE CHIPMUNKS AND BIRD CAMP ROBBERS are so tame here, they don't even turn around at approaching footsteps while they are scouting for crumbs and tearing open packages of cookies. Living so closely to a comparatively recent volcanics eruption, animals are used to living dangerously. Deer as well as chipmunks and squirrels wait until a car is almost upon them before dashing across the highways.

IN THE STREAMS AND LAKES which are convenient to the camp sites, the fish are almost uncatchable. Campers are kind enough to throw scraps and food into the waters so abundantly that only the most stupid fish would go for anything as obvious as bait on a hook. On the other hand, the rangers say that only the most expert fishermen can catch anything in these so-convenient waters. The 2½ mile hike to Twin Lakes from where we are located at Summit Lake has been productive of limits of ten to members of our party.

SPEAKING OF HIKING, many a tenderfoot has found that the trail signs showing anywhere from one half to three miles means, when walking, about five times the indicated distances.

SOMETIMES THE RANGERS ARE JOKERS in other respects besides distance directing. Not satisfied with the variety of food at Manzanita Lake store, we asked the ranger to direct us to the closest store outside the park. He said the "town" of Viola was just seven miles away. Upon arriving at Viola, we found the town consisted of a gas station and innumerable signs boasting of a hotel, cabins, cocktail bar, horses for hire and completely equipped country store. To begin with, the "store" was the inside of the very small gas station, and had a few cans of food on the shelves. We asked for soft drinks, and the proprietor whisked outside and into an adjoining barn which would dwarf most train depots. He placed the bottles on the outside window sill of the building, which were soon joined by eggs, margarine and milk which he produced at our request from the same huge cavern. I decided to investigate his inner sanctum, and became interested in a variety of signs attached to the outside of the barn, which advertised his various cold wares. There was this warning: "Do not drink beer or alcoholic beverages closer than twenty feet from the outside of this building." This placed the cocktail bar just about in the middle of a stump pile across the dusty road. The hotel was a two story building which was too dilapidated to be part of a movie set depicting the wake of a cyclone.

THE CAMP REGISTRY BOOKS were humorous and revealing. Most of the comments from Californians were favorable, although many criticized the mosquitos and so-called comfort station. A visitor from Shawnee, Okla., wrote: "Had to come out to where the rest of the Okies were." Oregon and Washington residents did'nt like the park because, in June it was too cold and rainy. Every few pages appeared little notes, like: "Howard, we are at other side of Lake." and "Warning: watch your camp equipment. There is a thief around— stole gas can and all my gas from car." From Perrysburg, Ohio, an enthusiast wrote: "I have been in all parks of any size in all 48 states —and this is the Best yet." That expresses the feeling of our group.

UNDER THE HEADING OF "they never left home", were the old ladies we saw at Manzanita Lodge on the grounds. As we passed them, one of the women was showing the other her Pekingese, and they were both talking about it and exclaiming over it. An hour later, upon our return, the two old ladies were still admiring the leashed animal, who was trying to go about his business. They reminded me of our stay a few years back at Big Basin. Every time we went through the amphitheater, two elderly ladies were taking turns reading aloud to each other from a travel book about an excursion through Africa. I don't think they looked around and saw the redwoods and scenery the entire time they were thére.

Strangely enough, in such a large Park as Lassen, we ran into the Beesons who live a block away from us in Quito Park. Mrs. Beeson reported that four families were in their group, and were fishing on Hat Creek.

NUDISTS TO HOLD 1957 NATIONAL MEET AT LOS GATOS

Lupin Lodge near Los Gatos is to be the site for the 1957 convention of the American Sunbathing Association, according to a vote taken at the confab in Spokane two weeks ago. More than 700 were at the Spokane meet, and that many will be expected at Los Gatos.

Salvation Army Wants Furniture

Furniture is one of the badly needed items The Salvation Army will be seeking when it makes its next solicitation for used and discarded materials in Campbell August 16th and 20th.

By writing a card or letter to the Men's Social Service Center of The Salvation Army at 575 South Market Street in San Jose, or by phoning CYpress 4-6316 to give the address, any person who wishes to donate items can arrange for the Red Shield truck to stop.

Major Kenneth Ayers is in charge of the center, where discards are repaired by those homeless and handicapped men who seek spiritual guidance and friendly understanding of The Salvation Army as they work out their own problems.

"Furniture, especially baby and children's pieces, can usually be repaired and reconditioned in our shops and made attractive and useful for those who shop through Salvation Army stores," the officer said.

When reconditioned discards are sold through Red Shield stores financial support is provided for the rehabilitation program for the men.

Pastor's Wife To Conduct Services

Mrs. Herbert W. Neale will be in charge of the morning services in the First Methodist Church of Campbell on August 16. Her theme will be "Take Joy Home". Mrs. Neale's husband is pastor of the church and will be at Lake Tahoe teaching in a Methodist High School Institute.

Mrs. Neale will be assisted in the services by Mrs. Mervil Willoughby and Mrs. Robert McCall. The services are held at 9:00 and 10:30 a. m. Sunday School meets at both hours so that the entire family can come at either time.

Labor Camp Plan Halted By Board

The proposed Seagraves labor camp near Saratoga will have to be built in conformance with county subdivision requirements, according to action of the board of supervisors Monday. Maurice Rankin, attorney for Seagraves said work had been started without the knowledge there was zoning requirements.

Rankin said the dwellings wouldn't be a transient labor camp. He said two of the houses would be occupied the year around by regular employees of Seagraves and the other three by seasonal workers who have been employed by Seagraves on a seasonal basis for the 15 years.

Rankin said his client would subdivide if the neighbors insisted. If they didn't insist, he said, Seagraves would promise to supervise the development and the occupants of the dwelling very carefully. There would be no supervision of the occupancy if subdividing was required.

Whist Party

A Whist card party will be held 8:30 p. m. Saturday night, August 13, at I. O. O. F. Hall, Los Gatos, by the Hesperian Rebekah, Ridgley Lodge and Los Gatos Encampment building committee. The public is invited.

CAMPBELL LUMBER WINS PONY LEAGUE PLAY-OFF

Campbell Lumber, the second half winner of the Campbell Recreation District Pony League Program, made it two in a row over the first half winners, ampbell Kiwanis, last Friday at the Campbell High School diamond.

Paced by Catcher Darold Noyer, who got three hits in four times at bat, the Lumbermen poured it on the Kiwanis club, 20-7, in the first game of a two-out-of-three series Wednesday night and picked up their second win on a forfeit by the Kiwanis. Benny Lujan pitched four innings, allowing but two hits, to pick up his fifth win of the second half. Lumber played the game with only eight players.

BURBANK LOSES IN LITTLE LEAGUE TILT

The Burbank team won over Palo Alto 49ers to capture the Little League championship of Santa Clara, San Mateo, and Alameda Counties last Thursday, but they were defeated at Visalia and eliminated.

PONY LEAGUE ALL-STARS TAKE ON THE WINNERS

With the Campbell Recreation District Pony League Baseball crown tucked safely away, the Campbell Lumber took the first game of a two-out-of-three series, 4-3 from the Pony League All-Stars Monday night on the Campbell High School diamond.

Lumberman Benny Lujan allowed but two hits as he won his sixth game of the year against but one loss. He was in trouble only once in the five-inning contest when the All-Stars pushed across two runs in the second inning. A walk, a single by Charles Hinkston, and two consecutive errors brought in the first two runs for the All-Star group.

Campbell Lumber went ahead 3-2 in their half of the fourth only to see it tied up in the top of the fifth. Pitcher Bob Whitewing had two out in the last of the fifth as Dave Sonsini got on with a fielder's choice. A hit and a walk loaded the bases. Whitewing was lifted for Joe Blum, who threw four straight balls to give Campbell Lumber the game. The second game will be played Wednesday evening with the third, if necessary, 5:45 Friday eve.

WASHINGTON quiz

Q—Do authorities give any sound reason for continually higher accidental highway death totals?

A—Reason for continually higher highway deaths is the same as for continually higher death totals for all reasons . . . there are more people and more people driving cars. Actually the total death rate for all purposes per 1,000 is at lowest point in history. At the same time the American Automobile Associations says the highway accident death rate is less than six persons for every 100 million miles driven—the lowest point ever recorded.

Q—Does time spent as a cadet at the U. S. military academy at West Point, count in computing my entitlement for Korean G. I. bill training?

A—No. Time spent at any U. S. service academy may not be included in figuring G. I. training entitlement.

Q—Will the minimum wage increase to $1 as proposed affect farm wages?

A—Yes. Actually primary impact of the proposed increase from 75¢ to $1.00 an hour will be felt in small businesses, rural industries and in agriculture. In industrial areas minimum wage is already generally above the $1 per hour figure. Increased labor costs will be passed on to the farmer by rural services and industries in additional cost for equipment, supplies, and services, including transportation and preparing for market and handling.

Q—What happened to the provisions in the Mutual Security bill that agricultural products be shipped 50-50 in American ships?

A—The provisions was stricken from the bill in the House by a vote of 181 to 51 on the claim that the provision would hinder sales of surplus farm products to countries who wished to use their own boats for shipping

Q—How was the recent vote of wheat farmers to accept acreage and marketing restrictions interpreted in Washington?

A—For the most part it was interpreted to mean the wheat farmers were in favor of as high a parity support price as they could get.

Martin Walshes Back From Alaska

Haircuts are $2.50 and shoe shines are 50c according to Judge Martin Walsh, who with Mrs. Walsh returned Saturday from a 7880 mile motor trip between Campbell and Fairbanks, Alaska. Judge Walsh said that a waitress gets $18 for an 8-hour shift, a fry cook gets $25 a shift and a carpenter gets $4.25 per hour. He said meals are not excessive in price.

In motoring along, Mr. and Mrs. Walsh alternated in the driving. They rode over 4000 miles of gravel roads which were in good condition so that a speed from 50 to 60 miles per hour could be made. The highway is maintained by the Canadian army and the maintenance yards are set up at 50-mile intervals.

The accommodations are passable at from $5 to $8 per night. Gasoline sells for 68c per gallon and oil for 70c a quart, this being the English gallon of five quarts to the gallon.

"In the 19 days we spent in Alaska we had but one day of rain. Temperatures ranged from 60 to 84 degrees" Walsh said.

When they visited Mt. McKinley National Park they experienced bright sunshine and clear sky. At Ben-my-Chree, 86 miles up a snow covered canyon they saw vegetables and flowers of unbelievable size and beauty.

The Alaskan highway from Dawson Creek to Fairbanks is 1527 miles, of which 1200 miles is in British Columbia and Yukon territory while 327 miles are in U. S. Territory of which 200 are paved.

With their visit to Mt. McKinley National Park, the Walshes completed a visit to all national parks in the United States national park system which includes the park in Hawaiian Islands. On this trip they shot 400 feet of colored movies.
